Works will be on exhibit (and for sale) from November 11 through December 31. All prints available framed or unframed.

David Seibel, Ph.D., is an acclaimed educator, author, ornithologist, and professional nature photographer whose work bridges the realms of science and art. His images of birds have been published in dozens of books and magazines and have won honors in major competitions such as the 2010 National Wildlife Photo Contest and the National Audubon Society's 2010 Birds In Focus contest. Previews of his work are available at www.DavidSeibel.com and www.BirdsInFocus.com. He recently coauthored the authoritative Birds of Kansas and will be available to autograph copies during the opening reception.

Please join us on Friday, November 11, between 7 and 9 PM, to meet the photographer and view the show in an informal but elegant atmosphere of fine wine and fabulous food (full menu available throughout the reception).
